<td>Birmingham-Southern College</td>
<td>In light of the continued spread of COVID-19 across our country as well as our home state, and in light of the many disruptions to day-to-day living in an attempt to curb this spread, we have decided to cancel on-campus classes effective immediately. Due to this adjustment, online instruction will now begin March 30. The faculty will work the next two weeks to prepare their online curriculum. Residential students should now depart campus as soon as they are reasonably able to do so, with expected departure by 5 p.m. Monday, March 16. Please take all academic-related items (books, etc.) with you at this time, in case you are not able to come back to campus before March 30.</td>

<td>Faulkner University</td>
<td>Faulkner University is regularly monitoring the outbreak of respiratory illness caused by a novel coronavirus (COVID-19) first detected in Wuhan City, Hubei Province, China. This includes staying up to date on the latest guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and will implement necessary measures as directed to keep our community safe. The University has created a Care and Response Team who are meeting regularly to evaluate the current global situation and make decisions to safeguard the health of our community and our students and employees locally and abroad. At this time, there are no confirmed cases of coronavirus at Faulkner University or in the state of Alabama. In addition to heeding guidance from the CDC, Faulkner University is also consulting directives from the Alabama Department of Public Health and the American College Health Association. We will post additional information on this web page as it becomes available.</td>

<td>Huntingdon University</td>
<td>Huntingdon College will now have a two-week Spring Break for the Traditional Day Program, beginning Monday, March 16, and ending on Sunday, March 29. This two-week break will give College officials the best opportunity to determine how we will finish the Spring Semester. Please note – We will finish the Spring Semester. Students, as you depart for Spring Break, you should take everything you may need for classes with you in the event that the College must consider remote instruction when classes resume.</td>

Effective Friday, March 13, all activities of the College for the Traditional Day Program, including intercollegiate athletics, are canceled until Sunday, March 29. Residence halls will close Sunday, March 15, at noon and will reopen Sunday, March 29, at noon. The dining hall will close following brunch Sunday, March 15, and will reopen Sunday, March 29, for dinner.

As of 03/18/2020, the campus operations of Judson College have been modified as follows:

Academic Operations
- Spring Break will continue through Tuesday, March 24. Classes will resume Wednesday, March 25, with an online (distance instruction) delivery through the end of the Spring semester (April 29). Students will hear from their professors regarding requirements for their courses. Special provision for on-campus labs and resources are outlined here.

- Academic Advising and Registration have been moved to the week of March 30-April 3 and will be completed remotely.

Student Services
- Residential students will be allowed to retrieve necessary educational and personal material from their residence halls on a floor-by-floor, phased basis. See Dr. Tew’s announcement for details and retrieval dates.
- Limited campus-based services (including housing and meals) are available for students who do not have access to permanent housing; whose academic program requires on-site presence; for whom returning home presents a health/safety concern; or for whom returning home would prevent them from accessing their courses remotely. Students who meet the above criteria and desire to remain in the residence halls must make a request directly to the Vice President for Student Life no later than noon on Friday, March 20, 2020. Mrs. Teague may be reached at ateague@judson.edu.
- Judson campus counseling services will still be available to students after spring break via remote methods. Students may make arrangements by emailing counselingservices@judson.edu or ttturner2@judson.edu. Counseling sessions will still be available either by phone or video following the same schedule as on campus (Monday – Ms. Marcelle; Wednesday – Dr. Turner; Friday – Ms. Anita)

Campus Events

School sanctioned extracurricular events through April 5 will be suspended or rescheduled, including Jr/Soph Weekend activities, musical recitals, and softball games. Watch campus email and the College calendar for further updates regarding events.

Miles College

While there are no confirmed cases of COVID-19 reported on our campus, as a precautionary measure to mitigate the risk of exposure to our College, we are implementing the following action steps consistent with many of our peer institutions locally and across the country.

- We will suspend in-person instruction, and the College will begin transitioning all courses online as of Monday, March 30, 2020 through the remainder of the Spring Semester.

- Online instruction will be available beginning Monday, March 16, 2020 to any off-campus students that wish to remain at home and utilize the distance learning delivery option.

- All athletic and extra-curricular activities will be suspended for the remainder of the semester.

- The campus will start the regularly scheduled Spring Break from March 23-27th

- Decisions regarding Commencement will be shared at a later date.

- College operations will not cease. Faculty and staff should plan to continue to work on campus until further notice. However, should it become necessary, we will modify our plan for faculty and staff.

- Alternative work arrangements and remote options for faculty and staff will be deployed only in the event that the institution closes.

- A help desk for student questions and contact will be created to provide swift responses.

- Student online engagement training will be deployed beginning March 16th.

We are committed to assisting our students in every way.

as the campus transitions to distance learning for the remainder of the semester. Success coaches will be available to each student to provide remote assistance with accessing courses online, pre-registration and FAFSA completion. All Residence Halls will close on Sunday, March 22, 2020. We anticipate that there will be students who need additional assistance to navigate this change. We stand ready to assist.

Oakwood University

As of March 13, 2020, Oakwood University students are asked to begin preparations to leave campus by Friday, March 20, 2020. Standard campus hours of operation remain in place for all University employees. All Spring 2020 face-to-face classes will be converted to social distance teaching through an online format beginning, Monday, March 23, 2020.

Samford University

The university is proactively implementing measures to safeguard the campus community and to ensure the academic progress of our students.

Latest Updates:
- Faculty and staff shifted to remote work on March 17.
- Beginning March 16, all courses moved to online instruction until at least April 6.
- All university events are canceled through April 5. Additional events are subject to cancellation.
- All university-related travel is suspended until further notice.
- Effective March 9, Samford’s spring study abroad program at its London study center, the Daniel House, was suspended.
- We continue to monitor the situation carefully and will update this site as new information is available.

Spring Hill College

With the well-being of our entire campus community at heart, the College administration has decided to suspend on-campus classes as of the end of today, Friday, March 13.

STUDENTS AND FAMILIES

Students are expected to check out of their residence halls and return home beginning at 5:00 p.m. today through Monday, March 16. This check out process is the same as implemented for any college break.

| Tuskegee University | Acting President Ruby L. Perry issues an update on the extension of spring break, the institution of virtual instruction, suspension of university-sponsored travel, and cancelation of all on-campus events through April 30 [view email]; a summary of those decisions include:

- Spring Break extended through March 22
- Instruction resumes virtually for the remainder of the semester on March 23
- Students exhibiting no symptoms can return to residence halls on March 22, as there is no reported case at Tuskegee or in Macon County
- Students can choose to remain on campus or go home for the semester, but must meet the demands of academic coursework
- Dining services, the library, and the bookstore with remain available to students, and all employees will be available to assist students
- University-sponsored travel and campus events/activities are canceled through April 30. We will evaluate travel and activities and whether commencement will occur after April 30. | https://www.tuskegee.edu/coronavirus-resources |
| University of Mobile | 1. Spring Break will continue during the week of March 16-20. Faculty and staff will use this week to prepare for alternative instructional methods.
2. Beginning on Monday, March 23, all on-ground instruction will be moved to an online format. Students will be contacted by their instructors prior to this date with information concerning the nature of this shift. Students involved in off-campus clinical assignments as well as student teaching will be informed by their supervisors as to their status. This mode of delivery | https://umobile.edu/coronavirus/ | will be re-evaluated on or before April 2. The desire of the administration is to return to on-ground classes on Monday, April 6. This decision, will of course, depend on the situation at the time.

3. All campus activities will be suspended during the time that instruction is being offered online. Any exceptions must be approved by the appropriate vice president.

4. Residential students are encouraged not to return to campus during the time instruction is being offered online. Exceptions will be considered on a case by case basis for international or other students who do not have alternative accommodations.

   Residential students who do not meet one of the above categories will be allowed to enter their rooms to retrieve any books or belongings that they might need to successfully complete their instruction. This should be done during the week of March 16-20.

| United States Sports Academy | All of the degree course offerings of the United States Sports Academy are available online or can be serviced remotely as is the case with certain readings requirements in the doctoral program. Therefore, as a student of the institution, you should be able to continue your program of study toward your degree uninterrupted by the current health emergency created by the outbreak of Covid19.

   None-the-less, the Academy administration is closely monitoring the ongoing Covid19 situation. As conditions continually evolve, the priority of the Academy remains the health, safety, and well-being of our Academy community both on and off campus. We encourage you to follow the recommendations of your local health authorities as it relates to your personal safety.

   For those students whose educational program is interrupted by the current situation as may be in the case for certain mentorship situations, or if you are experiencing COVID-19 symptoms, or have been diagnosed with the virus, please notify your faculty advisor immediately with the details so we can help you as it relates to your situation and educational program. |

While there are no campus-associated cases of COVID-19 at South University, we are being proactive in an effort to prevent illness and continue the important work of the university starting March 17th all campus-based classes and end-of-term assessments will be held through a virtual class format for the remainder of the quarter.

Students who are enrolled in lab-based and clinical classrooms should await guidance from their instructors.

To allow for this transition, all campus-based classes on Monday March 16th will be rescheduled; for the remainder of the week, classes will meet as scheduled.

We appreciate your flexibility and cooperation, as we work together, to protect the health and safety of our campuses. We will continue to provide regular updates regarding the COVID-19.
